NHS Supply Chain

NHS Supply Chain's role is to source, deliver and supply healthcare products, services and food for NHS trusts and healthcare organisations across England and Wales.

NHS Supply Chain has the expertise to ensure that goods are clinically safe and reflect the needs and preferences of the NHS.

It provides regular updates and customer notices on the availability of products, recall of products and opportunities for new contracts.

Suppliers looking to tender for business with NHS Supply Chain should register themselves on the Jaggaer portal.

You can access support from NHS Supply Chain through the NHS Innovation Service.
